The New Bonnel.

At considerable expense we have pro bared the above correct representation of he new style of bonnets, which is at comment in the newspapers. We confess that the plume, or feather, or "brush." or "as you like it," over aft, looks a little heavy for "spring style," but it is intended to be both "useful and ornamental," and is so constructed that if, in fly time, features of the wearers from many a rude nibble thereby.

POLITICAL ESSAY.

BY ANCIENT B., THE HANDSONE MAN.

The circumstances which drew out the following elaborate essay were these: Mr. M., who represents a large interest here owned by IL, some years ago ran for an office. "Ancient R." did not vote for him, whereupon M., meeting him after election, took him severely to tack, saying, among other things, "You should have voted for me, if for this reason alone:-In voting against magou have voted directly against H, who is doing a great deal for the people of East Saginaw," &c. We give R's rejoinder in extensor:

"Mr. M.: Sir-after my best respects to you I would inform you the inforence I draw from your conversation was that you supposed Mr. H. had done evrything for the peopple of East Saginaw-that they the present time the subject of so much had done nothing for him. I shall take the liberty to reverce the sean and look on the other side of the picture, As you seem to blame me for voting as I did. After A full investigation of the whole mater I am constrained to addres you in the following manner: Suposing you ware Mr. H.; and you the peopple of Saginaw. On Friday last, the river in this vicinity, was full of floating logs nearly all day, and so thickly stowed together as to pre sent the appearance of a large and wellfilled mill yard. These, with all that have previously gone down the river, form but small portion of those banked during the winter. Unless we have more rains soon, or a regular June freshet, many logs will find summer quarters in the woods near where they were cut.-Tuscola Pioneer 27th.

ACCIDENT. - Last Monday afternoon Mr. LESTER ADAMS, an engineer in Rust's Mill, had his hand badly crushed and lacerated by being caught in some of the machinery. It was dressed by Drs.
